The Deluge Steamer Excursion.

H. M. S. LIVERPOOL, May 17th, 1870.

Sir,—In reply to your note of yesterday, requesting that the ship of the Flying Squadron should be open to the inspection of the Victoria public on the 24th inst, I beg to acquaint you that the Commander-in-Chief, Rear Admiral Farquhar, has been pleased to direct that the ship be opened on the 25th inst, as being a more suitable day, in view of the amusements which have been arranged in Victoria for the 24th inst.

I remain, Sir, yours respectfully,
 G. T. P. HORNBY, Rear Admiral.
 Mr. Thos. Geiger.

H. M. S. ZEALOUS, Esquimalt.
 Sir,—Admiral Farquhar desires me to say that he grants permission to the Victoria public to visit his ship on the 24th or 25th inst, under the auspices of the Deluge Steam Fire Engine Company.

STUART H. RICKMAN,
 Flag-Lieutenant.

May 17th, 1870.

BANK OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.—At the last annual meeting of the Bank of British Columbia, the Chairman announced that the balance of bad debt account had been written off. In May, 1868, continued the Chairman, we declared no dividend; in October of the same year we paid 2½ per cent; in May, 1869, 3 per cent; in October of that year, 4 per cent; and we now recommend a dividend of 5 per cent, thus showing a progressive and steady advance in prosperity. We have in these two years paid out of profit £25,000 in reduction of the bad debt account, and £21,505 in dividends, including the one now recommended. I alluded at our last meeting to the heavy Government tax on our business in San Francisco and in Portland. As promised then, we called the attention of our managers at these branches to the subject, and although no good result has as yet been obtained, they are quite alive to doing all in their power to get it modified. The business in British Columbia is going on quietly and safely; not making such rapid progress as we might desire, but we trust if the arrangement for its admission into the Dominion of Canada is accomplished it will increase more life and activity into the colony. At present the revenue barely meets the expenditure and the executive have nothing to spend in promoting beneficial objects, such as immigration into the colony, subsidizing regular steam communication and many other things which would materially advance the prosperity of the place. Once joined to the Dominion they would be enabled to raise sufficient funds to allow the Governor and his Council to promote such objects as would develop the resources of the colony in the way most needed. We have intelligence of fresh gold fields having been discovered at Peace River, promising good results. If these gold fields at all come up to what is anticipated it will infuse fresh spirit and energy into the colony. Our San Francisco branch continues prosperous. Mr. Thompson asked whether they might expect any call upon the new shares during the next two or three months? The Chairman—Certainly not. I gave a distinct pledge that no further call should be made without three months' notice, and that pledge will be carried out in its integrity. [Hear, hear.] We have no expectation of having to make a call this summer, but of course we cannot pledge ourselves to that.

Two GRAND EXCURSIONS TO ESQUIMALT.—The steamer Enterprise has been chartered to proceed with an excursion party to Esquimalt at 9:30 o'clock a.m. on Tuesday morning, where she will remain until the salute shall have been fired, and return in time for the races at Beacon Hill. On Wednesday the Enterprise will proceed again to Esquimalt, leaving Victoria at 11:30 o'clock, and will reach her destination in time for the Regatta, returning after the last race. The fare is only 50 cents, children half-price. As everybody appears disposed to regard next week as a holiday, we don't know any better way in which at least two days may be passed than by following the programme laid out by the committee who have chartered the Enterprise.

THE CORNICAN BROTHERS.—This great modern drama will be represented at the Theatre this evening with a full cast of the company. The dual roles of the Brothers will be taken by Mr. Vinson and Mr. Thornton. Mrs. Bates will personate Emilie de Lesparre, Miss Mandeville, Celestine and Marie, and Miss Cummings, Mme. Franchi and Estelle. The piece is one of the most thrilling and beautiful ever written and in the hands of such artists as those we have mentioned cannot fail of success.

IMMIGRATION.—We are requested to state that a requisition to the Mayor to call a public meeting for the purpose of considering the question of Immigration lies at Hibben & Co's for signature. All those who feel an interest in the movement had better take an early opportunity of affixing their names to the document.

THE SKENNA MINES.—Captain Lewis requests us to correct the error of a blundering contemporary who stated that the passengers carried up the coast by the Otter on her last trip were landed at Metlakallah. They were put ashore at Mugsravetown, an embryo city at the mouth of the Skeena.

SEARCHED.—The steam-launch of the Liverpool, with an officer and a number of men, went out yesterday to search the American bark Montana—which had got underweigh for a foreign port—for deserters, but found none.

ALEXANDRE'S GLOVES, IN NEW AND BEAUTIFUL COLORS.

The French Perfect Corset, from the most celebrated maker in Paris. These corsets, from the scientific principle on which they are out, give universal satisfaction. Lace Shawls and Half-Shawls and the new Lace Mantle. Some entirely new makes of Dress Materials. Millinery, a really beautiful assortment. Ribbons, Flowers, Feathers, Moirés, Trimmings, &c., &c. Riding Habits and Jackets, made by a celebrated London Tailor, and a great variety of other goods, rendering ours as complete a stock of Drapery, &c., as would be seen in Regent street or Broadway. — LONDON HOUSE.

JOUVIN'S KID GLOVES.—These celebrated Gloves, perfect in their shape and magical in their fit, the favorite Glove of London, Paris and New York, the Glove par excellence of the world, can be obtained at VICTORIA HOUSE, GOVERNMENT STREET, in all colors and sizes, both for ladies and gentlemen, the proprietors having just imported by Express a large assortment comprising all the newest tints. — W. DENNY, Manager.

POSTPONED.—The proposed Excursion of the Mechanists' Literary Institute to Esquimalt on Saturday has been postponed till some day early in July, in deference to the wishes of bodies that had previously announced similar affairs.

FOUR SAILORS from the Flying Squadron were nabbed yesterday in citizen's clothes and sent back to their ships. Owing to the vigilance of our police and citizens, it is believed there will not be many desertions.

THE ship Othello, lumber laden for Callao, and the bark Henry Adderley, lumberladen for Melbourne, are on the way down from Moody's Mills.

THE large frame house on View street, built by Major Robertson in 1861, has been purchased by Mr. Farron and is being removed to one of his lots on Pandora street.

THE bark Montana sailed from the outer harbor yesterday morning, bound for Valparaiso, with a cargo of lumber from Moody's Mills.

THE DELUGE EXCURSION.—To accommodate families the Deluge Committee has fixed the fare to Esquimalt for ladies at 50 cents and for children, 25 cents.

THE steamer California sailed from Portland for Victoria at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She will bring a large mail.

FLORAL CONTRIBUTIONS for the Fete on Thursday are pouring in. The show will be large and varied.

THE SIDEWALKS continue in an unsafe condition and are daily growing worse. Is the new By-Law inoperative?

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—The steamship Active, from Victoria, arrived at 10 o'clock this morning.

Eastern States.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Great charges are preferred against Field and Hoffman, two of the Supreme Court Judges. The charges relate to decisions made in certain gold and land cases in California, in each of which, it is claimed, large sums of money were used to secure decisions. The matter is not well understood here, but seems to spring from complaints of long standing on the Pacific coast. The petitions presented by Julian are signed by W. H. Hartung, a lawyer of San Francisco, who is debarred from practising in US Courts in California and now charges the judges with misbehavior and misconduct in office. None of the allegations are specified and there seems to be no means of ascertaining what, if any, proof will be brought before the Judiciary Committee to sustain them.

In the House amendments to the Naval Bill offered by Sargent, increasing the appropriations for powder and labor in the Navy yards, were rejected and the bill passed.

On the return of Secretary Fish the President will send to the Senate the amendments to the San Domingo treaty in order to avoid the objections made to it by Senators in its present form. These amendments were spoken upon to-day. The amount to be paid that Republic is $1,500,000, with a proviso that the claims of foreign governments shall be paid first and the subjects of foreign powers next. Citizens of San Domingo are—[Line failed South of San Juan Island.]

CLOTHING SALE.—The undersigned offer his entire stock of Watches, Jewelry, Clocks, Silver and Platedware at less than cost price to close business, as all must be sold by the 1st June. Parties having left articles for repair must call for them by the end of this month, or the same will be sold to pay charges. All persons indebted to the undersigned are requested to call and settle the same at once. All bills remaining unpaid on the 15th inst will be placed in the hands of a solicitor. Parties requiring anything in my line will now have an opportunity of procuring great bargains.—W. Geo. Jamieson, adjoining the Colonial Hotel.

BUY IT AND TRY IT.—Russell's celebrated Coffee. The best on the Coast. Warranted a pure and healthful beverage.

Emigration.

EDISON, BRITISH COLONIST.—As a well-wisher to this colony I was delighted at reading your leader of the 12th inst. The subject of emigration is being thoroughly ventilated in England at this moment, and the idea that has occurred to you here is being developed there—that is, to employ transport ships belonging to the Admiralty for the purpose of sending emigrants to the colonies. We are truly in want of population. With untold wealth and a healthy and most charming climate, what is to prevent us from being a great people if we can only get a fair start? In England there are 1,300,000 poor, a large number of whom would gladly work for £8 0/0 000 to support them. A very small proportional part of this vast sum—which is an annual expenditure there—would send abroad all the able-bodied and industrious among them, and they would be delighted at the chance.

Last year there were large meetings in London, presided over by the Lord Mayor and Sir George Grey, to consider the question of assisted emigration. There were various societies established with this object. At one meeting a wealthy London merchant subscribed £10,000 and another £2000, provided six others would join him—and all this money was to promote the same object. Australia, under her present democratic government, does not want what is termed cheap labor from England, which would compete with the laborer in the colonial market. Canada does want all she can get, and I think that is the only way we shall ever get population here. Certainly, we shall not get it round the Horn.

If England would only try to divert the emigration that leaves her shores to Canada, what a glorious Northern Empire we might soon have, composed of hardy, industrious, steady men and healthy, active, home-loving women! The colonial policy is awakening interest at home—and no wonder! One-fourth of the whole trade of England is her colonial trade. Her 7,000,000 of colonists do more trade with her than the 32,000,000 or 33,000,000 of the United States and nearly one-half of the vast European populations of 235,000,000. The moral of all this is that we ought to be up and stirring if we wish to participate in the emigration movement and in the funds subscribed by noble-hearted men in the old country. I believe if we had an agent there we might at once obtain help towards the passage money of at least a hundred families. There has been political agitation enough, in all conscience, here and with little real benefit. Let us now try to help the country in other ways by all pulling together in this good work. Let us memorialize the Governor to give free grants—remembering that our shrewd American neighbors consider that every able-bodied male emigrant is worth $750 to them—of land to each head of a family, and to consider the best way of obtaining the services of a trustworthy agent in England to promote the scheme of emigration, and to furnish him maps, circulars, local land and other acts, schedules of rates of wages and other similar information. We shall by these means get a start in the race for wealth, and I for one am sanguine as to the result. A. B.

A BRILLIANT BUT SAD CAREER.—I know nothing in fiction wilder or more romantic than the life of Richard Brinsley Sheridan. The son of an Irish actor, endowed with the most brilliant and varied gifts of nature, high spirits, a noble presence, imagination, wit and eloquence—all those qualities that win the admiration of men and the affection of women—but without a shilling in the world to call his own, without either of those recommendations which form the passport to the higher circles of society—high birth and university honors—the author of the 'School for Scandal' rose by the mere force of his genius and rose almost at a bound to the highest position in political and social life at a period when political and social life in England was tainted by the narrowest and most exclusive spirit that has ever distinguished the aristocracy of that country. He held that position, and held it with ease, all through a long life, the rival of wit like Coleman and Horne Tooke; or orators and statesmen like Pitt and Fox and Burke, and of men of genius like Byron and Scott. He died almost in the arms of a Sheriff's officer and was buried with honors almost regal, with Princes of the blood for his pallbearers, in the sepulchre of great Kings and statesmen. It was a brilliant but a sad career, full of startling contrasts, marked by many humiliations and many victories, by great failures and great successes—and yet now, when one asks what remains of all this success, it is not easy to frame an answer. A speech or two, which no one now thinks of reading except to trace in its vivid colors what he thinks the false taste of age in eloquence and wit—the fleeting recollections of a few epigrams and bon mots and two or three sparkling contributions to the literature of the drama, are all that remains to mark the genius of the man who for thirty years was 'The pride of the palace, the bower and the hall.' Chambers' Journal.

SKILFUL WORKMANSHIP.—The King of Prussia recently visited a needle-manufactory in his kingdom, and was shown a number of superlative needles thousands of which together did not weigh half an ounce. He marvelled how such minute articles could be pierced with an eye. The eye-borer asked for a hair from the king's head. He placed it under the boring machine, made a hole in it, furnished it with a thread and then banded the Needle to the king. A curious needle is in the possession of Queen Victoria. It was made at the celebrated needle-manufactory at Redditch, and represents the column of Trajan in miniature. Scenes in the life of the Queen are represented in relief, but so finely cut and so small that it requires a magnifying glass to see them. The Victoria needle, moreover, can be opened. It contains a number of needles of smaller size, which are equally adorned with scenes in relief.

DOUBLE PLOUGH.—North country farmers, who could not afford the expense of the steam plough, have lately been turning their attention to ploughs drawn by a single team and managed by one man, but turning over two furrows at a time. There have been two public trials, got up by the farmers of Cumberland, at Whitehaven and Aspatria. No less than a dozen implements were submitted for competition, constructed by several different makers. Nearly all the work was well done and the success of the double plough was considered as established. The first prize at both trials fell to the lot of Messrs Howard, of Bedford, for a light and simple implement carried on two wheels.

HAVE YOU BEEN THERE?—Where? To the Blue Post, where the lunch that is set from 11 till 2 each day would overwhelm an epicure with delight. Change of fare each day, with the exception of Yorkshire Pudding, and Toad in the Hole, which are 'in situations' at the Blue Post.

Fighting the Regal Tiger.

PRINCE ALFRED'S GREAT TIGER HUNT—350 ELEPHANTS IN THE FIELD.

Prince Alfred, Duke of Edinburgh, is enjoying himself greatly in India. In February he was magnificently entertained near the boundaries of Nepal, by Sir Jung Bahadur, a native Prince, of immense wealth.

The Duke reached his camp on the banks of the Mohan river, which separates Oude from Nepal at 8:30 on the morning of 23d of February. Soon afterward Sir Jung Bahadur, who was encamped on the opposite bank, came across to meet and congratulate his royal guest. He was in state costume, and wore a splendid head-dress, valued at thirty-five thousand dollars in gold.

After a pleasant interview, Sir Jung Bahadur having laid aside his elegant attire and replaced it by a hunting costume, the two Princes set out to the great tiger hunt which the Indian host had planned for the entertainment of the Royal English sportsman. The battle which followed is described as absolutely unique. There were upwards of 350 elephants in the field; a tiger was soon started out of the jungle, and by masterly management was gradually so hemmed in by elephants that at last these formed a complete circle of not more than sixty yards in diameter, with only the Prince, Sir Jung Bahadur, and the tiger in the central space.

When the latter, realizing his situation, ran roaring round and round the circle, trying to find an exit, he at last made a rush at what seemed the weakest point in the circle. But, however, was just in front of the Duke's elephant and a well directed shot from his Royal Highness rolled him over, though it took two or three more to finish him. It was an understood thing that no one but the Duke was to fire and to give an idea of Sir Jung's commendable courtesy, it may be noticed that he had dismounted from his own elephant and climbed into the state bowdah, which by his orders had been prepared for the Duke, where he sat behind his royal visitor, not firing himself, but handing gun after gun to the Duke as he required them.

The dinner that night in camp is said to have been, beside where it was, a sight of itself worth a journey. About nine p.m. the tent door opened and in a long file entered a string of Gorkhas, bringing trays of presents—beautiful knives, elephants' teeth, tiger skins, China silks, musk pods, the current coins of Nepal, and a small elephant (who objected very much to the festivities), and last (though not least interesting) a baby tiger, only ten days or a fortnight old, which made itself quite at home on the table with the desert, and allowed itself to be caressed and made a pet of.

At Fall River Mass., on December 10th, a man while eating his breakfast, got a needle in his throat. It lodged crosswise, but was so far down to be seen. After three or four days, it worked into the left side and came nearly through the neck causing a painful abscess. A little above the abscess the needle was so near the surface that it caused the flesh to protrude like a pimple, but the physicians declined to cut to find it, especially as they had some doubt as to the cause. The abscess was subsequently lanced. The needle in the meantime worked back into the side of the throat, and then up under the tongue, causing great swelling and pain. Finally on April 9th, it was discovered protruding under the tongue, and was extracted. The needle was 1½ inches long, and had been four months on its travels.

Miscellaneous Items.

A young lady being present with her mother and an 'educated' cousin at a ball in Wyoming, upon being asked to dance replied:

'Oh, blazes, boys, I can't dance; but there's mamma, just as good a dancer as ever shuck a foot.'

Her horrified cousin instantly corrected her, telling her she should have said:

'Oh, vexation! gentlemen, it is an absolute impossibility for me to perambulate the terpsichorean evolutions; but there is my maternal relative who is just as excellent a dancer as ever vibrated a pedal extremity.'

Miss Robertson is the leader of the woman suffrage movement in Ireland, where 20,000 persons have petitioned for woman suffrage.

A Chicago politician has failed to recover on a note given him by his rival to keep out of the canvass. The court decides such a contract against the public morals.

A nice little game has been stopped at the New York Custom House. Some of the men have been accustomed to wear 'stomach canisters,' fitting about the body under the coat, into which they would syphon off liquor from casks unloading, carry it away, empty it safely and return.

A correspondent of the Maine Farmer has a new use for cats. He says: My way to cure a sulky steer that lays down when you first yoke him, is to take a cat and let her put her paws on the end of the steer's nose, and if necessary hold her rather hard. My word for it, he will be on his legs quick.

The rite of circumcision is no longer universally practised among the Jews. Sixty-three Jewish physicians of Vienna have published a manifesto against it, and the Rabbinical Congress at Philadelphia resolved that the rite of a Jewish woman, is even if circumcised, by the very fact of her being a member of Jewish community.

SPRING FASHIONS, 1870.—Just rec'd at Victoria House by express—Ladies' & Gents' Jouvin's Kid Gloves, The Hosiery, (Ladies' and gentlemen's), (approved kinds) Moire Antiques, Corsets, Silks, Unexcelled, Etoile, Nursing, Cor. Laces, the new styles of Bonnets, Ad Hats, Feathers, Flowers, FRENCH MEL COSTUMES, Lace Shawls, Grandine, Broche Shawls, Children's Frocks and dresses, Silk and Cloth Jackets, new Trimmings, Buttons, etc.

A CHANCE FOR BARGAINS IN CLOTHING.—A. Gilmore, sales street, near Government, has commenced to sell off his entire stock of ready-made clothing at cost, to close out that branch of his business, as he intends to confine his attention to MERCHANT TAILORING, garments of every description made to order in the most fashionable styles at greatly reduced prices.

HELLOWAY'S PILLS.—When emerging from winter and entering on spring, it is a wise and wholesome precaution to purify and cool the system by some alternative complaint to regulate disordered actions and to strengthen the bowels. This long sought medicinal exists in Halloway's far-famed purifying and toilet Pills, which cost only a trifle, and will ward off serious illnesses which too frequently reduce competence to poverty, nature, and so searching in its operation is suitable for all ages and for both sexes. It is especially adapted for soldiers and sailors, and is an indispensable requisite for colonists and persons proceeding to foreign countries where climates harass the constitution.

MARAVILLA COCOA—For Breakfast—The Globe says—'Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we dub whether any thorough success has been achieved until Messrs. Taylor Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of 'Maravilla' Cocoa. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which supercedes every other Cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma, and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Cocoa above all others. For homeopaths and invalids we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage.' Sold in packets only by all Grocers, of whom also may be had Taylor Brothers' Original Homeopathic Cocoa and Soluble Chocolate. Steam Mills—Brick Lane, London, 1awSat. 1yr

Breakfast—TAYLOR'S COCOA—HEALTHFUL AND COMFORTING.—The very agreeable character of this preparation has rendered it a general favorite. THE CIVIL SERVICE GAZETTE.—'The singular success with which Mr. Epps at last by his homoeopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalist. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operation of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the true properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which will save us many heavy doctors' bills.' Made simply with boiling water or in milk sold by the trade only in 4lb., 3lb., 1lb. tin-lined packets, labeled—JAMES EPPS & Co., Homoeopathic Chemists London, England. 1awSat. 1yr

REMEMBER THE FATE OF ABRAHAM.—Fred Payne's Homoeopathic Aft. Shaving 12½cts, Hair Cutting 15cts, Shampooing 25cts. The original cheap Shaving Shop stands on the sunny side of Johnson street.

FEEL'S COFFEE, superior to any other brand manufactured on the Coast, may be obtained of all respectable dealers throughout the Colony.
